A Lazy Liver

May be only a tired liver, or a starved liver. It would be a stupid as well as a saving thing to beat a weary or starved man because he lagged in his work. So in treating the lagging, torpid liver it is a great mistake to lash it with strong drastic drugs. A torpid liver is but an indication of an ill-nourished, enfeebled body whose organs are weary with overwork. Start with the stomach and allied organs of digestion and nutrition. Put them in working order and see how quickly your liver will become active. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery has made many marvelous cures of "liver trouble" by its wonderful control of the organs of digestion and nutrition. It restores the normal activity of the stomach, increases the secretions of the blood-making glands, cleanses the system from poisonous accumulations, and so relieves the liver of the burdens imposed upon it by the defection of other organs.

If you have bitter or bad taste in the morning, poor or variable appetite, coated tongue, foul breath, constipated or irregular bowels, feel weak, easily tired, dependent, frequent headaches, pains in the back, "small of back," gawdiness, distressed feeling in stomach, perhaps nausea, or "bilious" risings in throat after eating, and kindred symptoms of weak stomach and torpid liver, no medicine will relieve you more promptly or cure you more thoroughly than Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. Perhaps only a small part of the above symptoms will be present at one time and yet point to torpid liver or biliousness and weak stomach. Avoid all hot bread and biscuits, griddle cakes and other indigestible food and take the "Golden Medical Discovery" regularly and stick to its use until you are vigorous and strong.

"This is a non-secret, non-alcoholic, is a glyceric extract of native medicinal roots with a full list of its ingredients printed on each bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. Its ingredients are endorsed and extolled by the most eminent medical writers of the age and are recommended to cure the diseases for which it is advised."

Don't accept a substitute of unknown composition for this non-secret medicine of known composition.

Mrs. F. T. Grimes, Mrs. C. A. Blanton, Mrs. Benjamin B. Alsop.
These circles are raising funds for the Sheltering Arms, and feel sure the cause will have its weight in influencing a large number to join the party on Saturday. Tickets are for sale at the Jefferson, the Chesterfield, the Shenandoah, the Rosemary Library, Thaw & Grimes, Briggs' drug store and Walter D. Moses.

Light refreshments only will be served on the boat going and returning.

Engagement Announced.
The engagement of Miss Florence C. Trenholm, daughter of the late Hon. Alfred G. Trenholm, of Charleston, S. C., to Mr. Alexander D. Lathrop, of Stockport, N. Y., has been announced, and the wedding will take place in New York this summer.

Miss Trenholm is a member of a very old and prominent South Carolina family. Her grandfather, Hon. George A. Trenholm, of Charleston, was Secretary of the Treasury of the Confederacy. Mr. Lathrop has a beautiful home on the Hudson River, where he and his bride will live after their wedding trip.

TO PREVENT BIG FIRES

Governor Swanson is in receipt of the following letter from F. W. Fitzpatrick, of Washington, executive officer of the International Society of Building Commissioners, asking him to join in a crusade against the construction of inflammable buildings:

"The meeting of Governors here, from which you have but just now returned to your capital, was one of the very highest importance to the country, and that is bound to produce great results. The conservation of natural resources that, until so recently, have been so ruthlessly wasted by an all too prodigal people, is necessary and certainly a most timely movement. But its benefits will be for posterity."

"Just as important, I submit, is the matter of conserving our own lives and property, and to-day both are in imminent peril and in every State and order of the moment. To secure a sufficiency of timber and an adequate rainfall for the well-being of our great-grandchildren is a worthy movement, but to keep ourselves from an awful death by fire and to safeguard our property from the same dread scourge would seem to be an equally commendable movement."

"Our fire losses have assumed terrifying proportions—7,000 human lives wiped out of existence and property to the amount of $215,000,000 in a year's time, and an expenditure of at least another $330,000,000 in the endeavor to fight fire, are figures well calculated to make one take notice of the subject."

"Inflammable buildings in our cities and towns supply the fuel for those appalling fires. Such buildings are neither safe nor economical. Yet there is an inherent or some other kind of national shortsightedness that impels our people to build only as well as they are made to by law. And our building regulations are not half severe enough to secure the radical change that is necessary. Moreover, those laws are but, in most cases, municipal

Determined to see that its orders are respected by the public service corporations doing business in Virginia, the State Corporation Commission yesterday imposed a fine of $500 upon the Baltimore and Ohio Railway Company for failing to put into effect a through daily passenger train service in conjunction with the Southern, between the city of Alexandria and the town of Lexington.

The case was originally heard some time in January, and an order was entered directing the two roads to inaugurate the service as soon as practicable. This order was not obeyed, and the two companies appeared by counsel yesterday in obedience to rules issued by the commission to show cause why they should not be fined.

Both filed written answers, the Southern claiming that it had been ready and willing to comply with the order, but that the Baltimore and Ohio would not co-operate in the matter. The latter answered that it had been unable to make satisfactory connection arrangements with the Southern at Harrisonburg, which is the junction point, and indicated a desire that the case be reopened. After hearing these answers, and brief statements from counsel representing, respectively the two companies and the town of Harrisonburg, the commission, through Chairman Prentiss, without leaving the bench, directed that an order be entered by the clerk fining the Baltimore and Ohio Railway $500.

Judge Prentiss told counsel that the order was continuing and that the company might expect another fine if the service desired by the commission is not put into effect.

Messrs. Bumgardner and Preston appeared for the Baltimore and Ohio, Mr. Tunstall, of Norfolk; for the Southern, and attorney Bertram for the town of Harrisonburg.

Canned Goods Case.
The Corporation Commission yesterday handed down a written opinion in the case of the Commonwealth vs. the Southern Railway in relation to the classification of canned goods. The petition for the proposed change is denied and the proceedings are dismissed. The opinion follows:

"This day came Mr. E. S. Goodman, manager transport bureau, Richmond Chamber of Commerce in person, and the Southern Railway by its attorney. 'Whereupon the evidence and argument having been submitted, and it appearing that the authorized and existing freight rates for the transportation of canned goods, canned vegetables, canned meats, etc., when transported over the lines of the Southern Railway in less than carload quantities, between points in this Commonwealth, considered with reference to the service rendered and compared with the authorized and existing rates of the Seaboard Air Line Railway, and the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad Com-

Commission to Inquire into Advantages of Creating a State Board of Charities and Corrections.

Lewiston, Me., May 19, 1908.
The Chamber of Commerce, Richmond, Va.

Dear Sirs:—As an attendant upon the Conference of Charities and Corrections, recently held in your city, and a participant in the delightful excursion down the river and up the coast, I cannot feel quite satisfied to let the occasion pass without expressing to you my deep appreciation of the courtesy and kindness shown to the conference by your Chamber of Commerce and by the citizens generally. Nothing seemed to be left undone for the comfort and the pleasure of your guests; and the day we were especially the recipients of your hospitality upon the river, will long be remembered. The details of embarkment, of refreshments, of music, of announcements were all so admirably attended to as to elicit universal approbation. I, for one, most heartily thank you.

Sincerely yours, ALFRED WILLIAMS ANTHONY.

Wise Talks by the Office Boy

I see that a fellow named Stanley Ketchell has whipped a man of the name of Sullivan who resides at Boston, not 'Jno. L.' of course, but 'Jack Twin' Sullivan. Ketchell is a Michigan lad. There was a time in history when the name 'Sullivan' associated with the name 'Boston,' stood for the Y. C. T. U. (You can't trim us), but times change and people keep it. Stanley is another good name plate for endurance, when you think of Darkest Africa. (Not Big John's), but I guess the Sullivan has the call. A man bearing that name was recently asked who were his ancestors. 'Ancestors,' he asked, 'what's that?' 'The people you sprung from,' was the reply. 'The Sullivan never sprung from anybody; they sprung at 'em,' retorted Sully. Well, you can't trim an Irishman for remarks, but for the real skill and endurance commend me to the people who sprang at the clothing we are showing this season. You can see the style and the class of goods that surround the style and the needwork that holds it in without the aid of a spell-binder or a Jolt from Boston. That's right. They are the real bon-bons.

COMMISSION TO ENFORCE ORDERS

Imposes Heavy Fine on Baltimore and Ohio Railway for Failure to Obey.

CANNED GOODS CASE DECIDED

Petition for Change Denied and Proceedings Are Dismissed. Capitol News.

Determined to see that its orders are respected by the public service corporations doing business in Virginia, the State Corporation Commission yesterday imposed a fine of $500 upon the Baltimore and Ohio Railway Company for failing to put into effect a through daily passenger train service in conjunction with the Southern, between the city of Alexandria and the town of Lexington.

pany in Virginia for the transportation of similar commodities are fair and reasonable; and that to require the Southern Railway Company to change its classification of such commodities so as to reduce such authorized and existing rates would constitute an unjust discrimination against it, and hence be improper.

"Therefore, the commission declines to require such change in classification, and it is ordered that this proceeding be, and is hereby, dismissed."

Wants Information.
Mr. D. P. Thurston, of No. 10 Florence Street, Boston, Mass., has written Secretary of the Commonwealth D. Q. Eggleston the following letter, which is self-explanatory:

"Can you give me any information regarding gentleman of the name of Bernard Peel Chenoweth of Virginia, eldest son of the Rev. Alfred Griffith Chenoweth, a captain in the Union army, who was married at Christ Church, Madison? A lady in Boston has received a package through the express that would be of great value to him, his wife and their children."

Col. Cunningham Discusses Situation in North Carolina.

Colonel John S. Cunningham, of North Carolina, was called at the Federal building yesterday afternoon, having "just dropped in to shake hands with the judges of the United States Court" as he expressed it.

Asked concerning the political situation in the Old North State, Colonel Cunningham said the gubernatorial election, though most interesting, is completely overshadowed for the present by the great prohibition battle, which will end with the election on Tuesday. He is with the prohibitionists, and expresses the belief that they will win.

Colonel Cunningham did not say which of the three candidates for Governor he favored, but declared that the race was a very pretty one, and that after Tuesday it will hold the centre of the political stage in the State until it is over.
